4 Questions To Ask Yourself Before You Start A Blog

QUESTIONS

WHAT IS YOUR MOTIVE? WHY DO YOU WANT TO START A BLOG?

DO YOU PLAN TO INVEST INTO YOUR BLOG? OR USE FREE TOOLS?

DO YOU HAVE TIME TO DEVOTE TO BLOGGING?

CAN YOU PUT YOURSELF OUT THERE PUBLICLY?

WHY DO I NEED TO CONSIDER THESE?

Every single blogger, whether ambitious or leisurely, comes to a point in their blogging journey where they just don't remember their "why". We all get lost along the way by the frustration of coding, the hurtfulness of trolls, or the rejection from readers.

These questions while they seem harsh or basic, but they truly help set the reality of developing a blog. Some bloggers jump right in and buy their domain, buy a custom website, buy a custom logo, etc. And then are in the red compared to someone who may have tried their hand at a free website, a free website template, and made their own logo. Your start can be anything you want! But I highly recommend having a plan and a budget before you jump into it.

Sit down, think long about each one, and WRITE YOUR ANSWERS DOWN. You will want to come back to them one day.
